Continuation of 4(e) Other:

The 'Amendment Under 37 CFR §1.121' filed 25 April 2005 (and originally submitted 29 May 2001) constitutes an amendment of the claims, wherein the use of brackets or underlining is unclear.

Brackets or underlining are commonly used to indicate amendments or changes in the claims as provided in 37 CFR 1.121(a)(2)(ii) and are normally not intended to be printed in the published patent.

In the reply filed 25 April 2005 (originally submitted 29 May 2001), applicant has used underlining in such a manner that it is unclear to the examiner whether the underlining is intended to appear in the patent.

The underlining is unclear because the term "attribute." has been underlined in claim 2, line 10 [see Page 8 of the 'Amendment Under 37 CFR §1.121' filed 25 April 2005 (and originally submitted 29 May 2001)], suggesting that this subject matter is meant to be added to claim 2 by the applicants. However, the examiner respectfully notes this same exact "attribute." subject matter was present in the immediate prior version of the claim language (see Page 43 of the originally submitted patent application, filed 14 April 1999). Therefore, it is now unclear if the applicants are intending for the aforementioned underlining to appear in the patent.

Furthermore, it is respectfully noted that a page break between "a character code, a font attribute, and a display" (see Page 42/1 of the originally submitted patent application, filed 14 April 1999) and "attribute." (see Page 43 of the originally submitted patent application, filed 14 April 1999) appears to have been made to the newly amended claim 2 [see Page 8 of the 'Amendment Under 37 CFR §1.121' filed 25 April 2005 (and originally submitted 29 May 2001)] without the use of brackets around the matter deleted.

If underlining and/or bracketing is intended to appear in the claims in the published patent, such intention must be clearly indicated in applicant's reply to this notice.

Since the above-mentioned reply appears to be bona fide, applicant is given a TIME PERIOD of ONE (1) MONTH or THIRTY (30) DAYS from the mailing date of this notice, whichever is longer, within which to supply an amendment in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121 and this notice in order to avoid abandonment. EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD MAY BE GRANTED UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A telephone call was made to Mr. George E. Oram, Jr. (Registration Number 27,931) on 16 November 2006 to seek clarification of the amendment's intent from the applicants, but did not result in a clarification being made.

The applicants are hereby notified that the examiner's art unit has recently changed from Art Unit 2673 to Art Unit 2629, please direct all future correspondence accordingly. Thank you.
